

Projekt Zukunft

Projekt Zukunft is an initiative by Berlin's local government. It is committed to structural changes towards an information/knowledge society. Projekt Zukunft develops strategies for the city and supports Media, IT businesses and cultural economy. It also initiates innovative projects for the economy and the community and assists in realising public-private-partnerships. The organisation also coordinates events and publications aimed at the promotion of public dialogue on these issues. Linking economy with sciences, politics and administration, Projekt Zukunft optimises general conditions for the future growth of information technologies, telecommunication, E-Government and cultural economy.
